A new season

Players at the annual Intra-club match, September 2008

Our esteemed president has relinquished his usual opening welcome and handed me the new ball to welcome you to another season of “Bamville” (season 77). The story so far: The Saturday team exploring the far reaches of the county and beyond to first conquer then befriend. The Sunday team lure the opposition onto our green and pleasant land, subject them to best teas in the universe and then put them to the sword. Well that’s the theory.

Welcome to all members old, very old and new to the new season and may the force be with you. Archbishop William Temple once said “I have always look upon cricket as organised loafing”. Well not at Bamville. We are certainly not organised!

Geoff Divers
Saturday Captain
